

Christian Polster
CFO & CSO
RadarServices IT-Security GmbH

Mr. Polster is Chief Financial Officer and Chief Strategy Officer at RadarServices GmbH, founded in 2011. RadarServices focuses on identifying IT security risks of companies and government agencies arising from IT systems as well as make risks manageable by providing managed services for IT security monitoring and IT risk management. Before his current position Mr. Polster was part of the global IT management of Lufthansa Systems AG. Already in 1997 he joined the IT and IT security field at CSM Security Management AG and subsequently at SurfControl plc. He studied Business Informatics at Technical University of Vienna and Business Administration at Vienna University of Economics and Business (WU), London School of Economics (LSE), and Singapore Management University (SMU).