

Enrique Crespo,
Professional Services Director
Safelayer

A mathematics graduate and university expert in data encoding and network security, Enrique Crespo has over 17 years' experience in the digital identity sector with the business development of security technologies and the management and organization of security departments.

Crespo has devoted his career to logical security and digital identity, standards compliance, and government and corporate security in the public and private sectors and internationally (EMEA and LATAM).

He has taken part in European Framework Programmes and collaborated with the European Space Agency, border control for LATAM countries and on major national digital ID and secure biometric document projects.

Crespo has consolidated his career in leading companies in the ICT security sector, including Grupo GMV-SGI and El Corte Inglés Informática, in positions of responsibility in management, operations and sales. Nowadays he works in Safelayer, since 2011, he is the Professional Services Director.

A CISA, 27001 and 25999-2 lead auditor, Enrique Crespo has numerous technological certifications, has taken part in scientific seminars and possesses knowledge on operations research and data engineering.