

Martin Sprengseis
COO
Bluesource

COO at Austria's leading m-commerce solution specialist bluesource - mobile solutions.

Martin's passion is everything connected with phones, mobility, culture and the people involved.

Developing the business units in Vienna, Central Europe and Silicon Valley, US gave him the opportunity to study and enjoy several regions of the world. Martin's expertise was developed through assignments as leading project manager, double time CEO and broadened by academic studies local and abroad.

Martin loves to laugh and enjoy surprising conversations with new people and old friends.

Interests:

- creating mobile apps, everything around m-commerce
- cultural management, focus on music
- sports
- local cultures and habits in different regions of the world combined with traveling