

Dr Reza Shokri
Post-doctoral Researcher
Department of Computer Science, ETH Zurich

I am currently a post-doctoral researcher in the Institute of Information Security, Department of Computer Science, ETH Zurich, working with Prof. Srdjan Capkun. Prior to this, I was a research assistant in the Laboratory for Communications and Applications, the School of Computer and Communication Sciences, EPFL, working with Prof. Jean-Pierre Hubaux.

I received my MSc. in Software Computer Engineering from University of Tehran, Iran, and my Ph.D. degree in Computer and Communication Sciences from EPFL, Switzerland, in 2007 and 2013, respectively.
