

Robert Garskamp
Founder
IDentity.Next

IDnext association is an open and independent platform to support and facilitate innovative approaches in the world of the Digital identity, create awareness about the Digital Identity, provide a knowledge and networking platform for experts in IT, Business and Marketeers as a European centre of expertise, and to ensure that everyone connected with the association stays at the forefront of technology, services and business by supporting innovation and by stimulating and supporting knowledge exchange and collaboration.

Managing director of IDentity.Next

Providing services (program, project en business development) related to the world of digital identity. Robert has a also broad experience and knowledge in Identity & Access management, security and Governance, Risk and Compliance projects within the e.g. Financial, Government and Education sector.

EEMA is Europe's leading, independent trade association for E-business and brings over 135 organisations in a neutral environment for education and networking purposes. And programme committee member of ISSE and Identity-Management conference organised by eema.

Robert is vice-chairman and member of the EEMA board.